

Week 1

Week 2

Week 3

Week 4

Week 5

A few years ago, an intern at my office gave me this lovely orchid as a thank you gift, a thank you for my patience in training her, reviewing her work and correcting any errors.

As we waited during the season of Advent for the coming of our Lord, Jesus Christ, I note that sometimes we are anxious about the season, but should be patient. The year of 2020 has truly tried our patience – with wearing faces masks, with attending ‘outdoor’ worship services, then having to limit the seating in the Sanctuary at Fairmount Presbyterian Church. Now, we patiently attempt to connect to zoom for Bible studies and Facebook live for our services.

Note that on Week 5’s photo, the interior of the bloom appears to be a seat – a seat with Christ where He says, “Come, sit with me, rest and be patient.” Let us remember that we should be patient with all of the changes in our world due to the Coronavirus.

In Christ,
Donna Rahmann